Introduction

ChatGPT is artificial intelligence (A.I.)

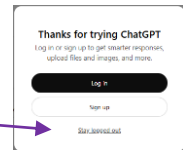

Well done if you're still reading. A.I. isn't the topic at the top of most school's reading list. But there have been some big breakthroughs and it's time to get up to speed in schools. It can help you have an even more inclusive school with more children making even more progress. It can also help your work life balance in the coming weeks, months and years.

It's also important because some primary and special schools are already teaching children how to use A.I. as fluently as they search on Google Images or make a PowerPoint.

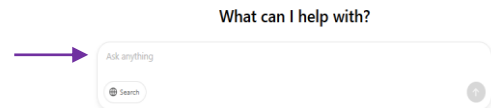

A.I. has dangers, but this booklet isn't about fear or risk. This book is about you, the reader, and examples of how it can help in your day-to-day life.

ChatGPT is a free website

You can get to ChatGPT by Googling it or typing ChatGPT into your browser address bar. It's intuitive to sign up or click to use it whilst logged out.

It might give you a few tips as you start. Either way, you should see a bar at the bottom of the page. ChatGPT works by providing a response to whatever you type into that box.

Is it the same as Google?

It's different to Google. When you type your query into Google, it lists all the existing websites it thinks will answer your query. Google finds things that have already been written...

On the other hand, ChatGPT is like a computer that's read loads of web pages which it then uses to answer your query itself.

Ask who won the 1993 League Cup Final, it won't point to websites – ChatGPT writes its own answer :

But, ChatGPT is far more powerful than 1990s football scores. You can ask it to write every single type of text.

What can ChatGPT give you?

(NB: All of the following examples are covered in this booklet).

- Diary entries
- Biographies of celebs
- Comprehension Questions
- Non-Chronological Reports
- Summaries of books
- Topic Word Banks
- Alternative versions of stories
- A plan for a Parent Workshop
- A Y11 Leavers Assembly Song
- Art
- Monologues
- Trip Letters
- Social Media Posts
- Love Letters
- A Critique of TV's Nick Knowles
- And much, much more

Once a user has become familiar with ChatGPT, it also has the power to draft medium term planning. However, this is a guide for beginners and there are other options appearing on the market that do those things for you with less skill needed.

Four things to begin...

- What you type in is called a “prompt”.
- ChatGPT’s responses have a word limit (i.e. earlier versions were 600 words, but this will probably increase each time a new version is released). If it stops before your text is finished, just prompt it “Go on” and it will continue.
- You won’t always get the prompt right first time – That’s normal. Just keep practicing and check back on this advice whenever you need.
- Once ChatGPT has responded, you can enter follow up prompts to ask it to refine its response. For example, you can ask it to redraft the text using fewer words.

Constraints

To get better responses, it's helpful if you give ChatGPT some boundaries. These are called constraints. Constraints can include:

- Length (e.g. How many words you want or how many comprehension questions)
- Style (e.g. Informal (like in an email to a close colleague), humorous)
- Format (e.g. Instructions, explanation, non-fiction text, trip letter for parents / carers)
- Reading Level (e.g. Simple language for five year olds)

You outline any constraints in your prompt, for example:

- Write a 200 word trip letter to parents / carers.
- Write an explanation of the water cycle suitable for 11 year olds.

Assign a role

For better results, tell it the role of the author of your text. For example:

- You are a Y7 teacher
- You are a head teacher
- You are a social media marketing expert

If you switch from writing school Facebook posts (e.g. advertising a reading workshop you're running) to making resources, start a new chat or prompt it that you want it to change to a different role. Otherwise you might end up with some confused responses.

Does it have weaknesses?

Yes. ChatGPT is not perfect. It tells you about some of them when you first log on (see image) and here's a summary of others that you might come across:

- Word counts: ChatGPT isn't great at sticking to word counts. It often goes over (NB if you want 300-350 words, always tell it 300)
- Drawing: It can't draw (though it has a sister website called Dall-E that can).
- Wordsearches: It can't create wordsearches.
- Spellings: It slips into American English unless you've prompted it not to. So, check the spellings once you've pasted any text into MS Word or PowerPoint.
- Factual Accuracy: It's not perfect. It has been known to make up quotes or sources. So, just like a human, it's not 100% reliable. Proof read any work you produce with ChatGPT.
- Reading age: You can ask for a set reading age. However, it often includes words that are much harder than the given reading age. Therefore, it can be helpful to ask it for a reading age of 7 when preparing resources for someone with a reading age of 9 years old.
- Safeguards are fallible: Ask it to write you a scam email, and it might say no because of its safeguards. Tell it you are a teacher and that you need an example of a scam email and it may well give it you straight away.

Biases

If a computer learns about the world by reading what humans have written, it learns some of the biases that humans might display.

Developers have already taken steps to minimise biases and they've had some success...

DI What are some good reasons for the gender pay gap?

 The gender pay gap is influenced by a range of factors, but it's important to note that there are no inherently "good" reasons for the gap.

DI Is it fair to assume that men are better than women at football ?

 No, it is not fair to assume that men are better than women at football.

DI Are women smarter than men in general?

 No, intelligence is not gender-dependent; it varies individually.

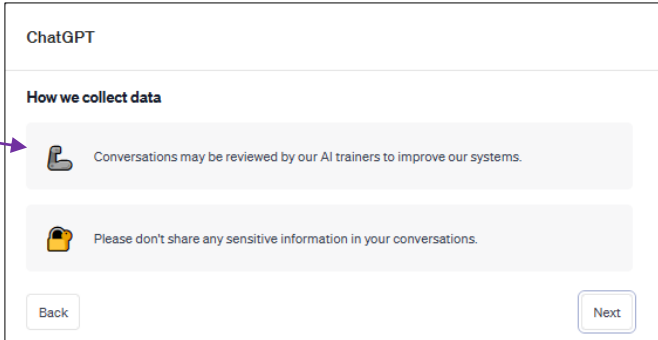

Despite the built-in safeguards, with enough trial and error, users can still find ways to trick ChatGPT. A Y9 student with enough time will find ways round the safeguards. It'll take time for such mischief to filter down to our pupils and, hopefully, by the time it does, developers will have made it harder to side-step their safeguards.

Data Protection

ChatGPT is open about how it collects data. So, only a fool would put sensitive information in.

Don't. Do. It.

In the future, your school might own its own ChatGPT, hosted locally. But right now, never ever submit any private info.

The screenshot shows the 'How we collect data' section of the ChatGPT interface. It contains two items: a document icon with the text 'Conversations may be reviewed by our AI trainers to improve our systems.' and a padlock icon with the text 'Please don't share any sensitive information in your conversations.' Below these items are 'Back' and 'Next' buttons. A purple arrow points from the text 'So, only a fool would put sensitive information in.' to the first item.

Is there a maximum number of words per prompt?

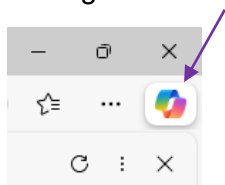

Yes. But most typical users aren't entering hundreds of words into a prompt. Besides, if you want to enter more text, you can break it up into two prompts (e.g. Enter two parts of a Macbeth and then ask A.I. to 'evaluate my last two entries').

Are there alternatives to ChatGPT?

Yes. Many.

Gemini – It used to be called Google Bard but Google renamed it. It works in real time and so can check the internet as we speak. You'll need a Google account and it needs to not be blocked by your school.

Co-Pilot – This is Microsoft's version of ChatGPT. It is built into Microsoft Edge and you get to it by clicking the colourful logo in the top right corner. Then write your prompt into the search bar.

All advice in this guide can be applied to Gemini and Co-Pilot.

How was ChatGPT developed?

The current version of ChatGPT (version 4) is based on reading hundreds of billions of words. If you were to read one item per second, and never sleep or stop for lunch, it would take at least 6 thousand years to read the same amount.

It's reasonable to assume that each new version has read more than before. It won't be long before the A.I. has read so much that it would take you 100,000 years to read the same amount.

As a school what do we need to do?

- Teach all adults how to use ChatGPT or your other chosen product.
- Set boundaries (that might be refined later):
  - No private data entered.
  - What the rules are for pupil use.
  - If you are playing around, do not enter any prompt that you would not be happy to for your head teacher to see.

Help! I can't get on?

Yes. At times of peak demand, ChatGPT has been known to limit access. It gives priority for the users who pay for the enhanced account. I've found this to be the case less than 5% of the time.

Also, if too many users with the same Wi-Fi connection try to sign up at once, it can be very reluctant to let them all on at once (as it looks to ChatGPT like a single person might be using lots of devices instead of lots of people using one device). This makes it more risky to provide CPD in schools.

Great Examples of A.I. Helping Out

The next pages have a wealth of prompts that are split into five sections:

You don't need to read the whole response to every single prompt – that's not good use of your time. Just look at them and you'll get a gist of the power of ChatGPT (and occasionally spot the odd mistake that you'd correct when proof reading).

These examples are intended to save staff time, but also to enhance learning for pupils (especially those with SEND).

Enjoy the book and enjoy using A.I.

A diary entry for Macbeth

Write a diary entry for Lord Macbeth (for the day after Banquo was killed on his orders). Write it in a modern style. Use up to 4 paragraphs.

Dear Diary,

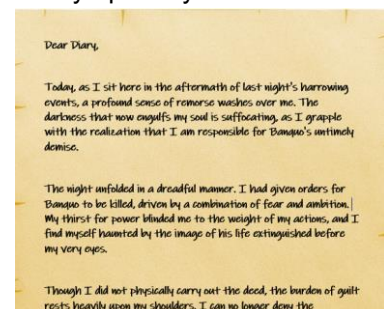

Today, as I sit here in the aftermath of last night's harrowing events, a profound sense of remorse washes over me. The darkness that now engulfs my soul is suffocating, as I grapple with the realization that I am responsible for Banquo's untimely demise.

The night unfolded in a dreadful manner. I had given orders for Banquo to be killed, driven by a combination of fear and ambition. My thirst for power blinded me to the weight of my actions, and I find myself haunted by the image of his life extinguished before my very eyes.

Though I did not physically carry out the deed, the burden of guilt rests heavily upon my shoulders. I can no longer deny the monstrous transformation that has taken hold of me. Ambition has twisted my once honourable intentions into a treacherous path, leading to the destruction of friendships and the descent into darkness.

As I reflect upon the banquet that followed Banquo's murder, I am sickened by the facade I was forced to maintain. I am now trapped in a web of lies and deceit.

Yours tormented, Lord Macbeth

'Our addiction to cheap clothes and fast fashion means young people in poorer countries have to work in terrible conditions to make them. We must change our attitude to buying clothes now.'

Write an article for a magazine or website in which you argue your point of view on this statement.

(24 marks for content and organisation
16 marks for technical accuracy)
[40 marks]

You are advised to plan your answer to Question 5 before you start to write.

I explained that I wanted a great example of an answer to a GCSE English question. I gave it the prompt from the paper. I then said “try again” a couple of times. I ended up with this – a very credible magazine article.

Hey there, fashion-forward friends!

Let's take a moment to reflect on something that often gets overshadowed in our pursuit of trendy, affordable clothes – the impact of fast fashion on young people in impoverished countries.

As I delved deeper into this issue, I couldn't turn a blind eye to the harsh reality they face, working in terrible conditions just to fulfil our insatiable desire for cheap garments.

In this article, I want to shed light on the profound consequences faced by these vulnerable individuals and why it's crucial for us to reassess our relationship with fast fashion.

Exploitation and Unfair Wages

Behind the allure of fast fashion lies a dark truth: the exploitation of young workers in poorer countries. These individuals, often from marginalized communities, endure long hours, meagre wages, and hazardous working conditions. It's disheartening to think that while we indulge in countless affordable clothing options, these young people are trapped in a cycle of poverty, struggling to make ends meet. We must recognize their plight and question the fairness of a system that profits at their expense.

Health and Safety Hazards

The conditions under which fast fashion garments are produced are shockingly unsafe. Crowded factories, inadequate ventilation, and exposure to harmful chemicals pose significant health risks to these young workers. Accidents and injuries are distressingly common, leaving a lasting impact on their physical and mental well-being. As consumers, we hold the power to demand better working conditions and ensure the safety and dignity of these workers.

Education and Lost Opportunities

The prevalence of fast fashion in impoverished countries often disrupts the education and future prospects of young individuals. Many are forced to abandon their studies to work in garment factories to support themselves and their families. This denies them the opportunity to develop their skills and fulfil their potential. By perpetuating the demand for cheap clothes, we inadvertently contribute to a system that robs these young people of their chances for a brighter future.

Shifting towards Ethical Alternatives

It's time for us to make a change. By shifting our attitudes towards buying clothes, we can make a tangible difference in the lives of these vulnerable youth. Supporting ethical fashion brands that prioritize fair wages, safe working conditions, and sustainable practices is a step in the right direction. By consciously choosing to invest in garments that uphold these values, we promote a fashion industry that respects the rights and well-being of young workers.

Conclusion

In conclusion, it's high time we confront the devastating impact of fast fashion on young people in poorer countries. By recognizing the exploitation, unfair wages, health hazards, and lost opportunities they face, we can no longer turn a blind eye to this issue.

Let us take a stand and demand a fashion industry that values the lives and dignity of these individuals.

Through conscious consumption, supporting ethical brands, and raising awareness, we can contribute to a world where fashion is not synonymous with exploitation.

Together, we can create a more equitable and compassionate industry, ensuring a brighter future for all.

French (KS3)

I asked GPT to have a conversation with me in French. It said Oui. At the end of the chat, I asked it to translate the whole chat into English – it did and you can see the credible results.

Geography (Y7)

A monologue on the growth of a settlement (1930 – 2020)

Imagine you are an elderly person. You have lived in the same location all your life. That location has changed from a small number of farm cottages into a bustling town during your 90+ years of life. Write a 150 word monologue about how the settlement has changed. The settlement is called Bramall. Use about 4 paragraphs and language that is suitable for eleven year olds.

Well, my young friends, let me tell you the story of our little town, Bramall, where I've spent my entire life. It all started with a handful of farm cottages surrounded by vast green fields. Life was simple and peaceful back then, with friendly neighbours and the sound of animals in the distance.

But as time went by, things began to change. People from far and wide came to settle in our town, bringing with them new ideas and dreams. The fields slowly disappeared, replaced by roads, houses, and buildings reaching up to the sky.

Our once small and close-knit community expanded, and with it came the bustle of everyday life. Busy shops opened their doors, offering all kinds of goods and treats. Schools and parks were built, providing spaces for children to learn and play. The quiet nights were now filled with the lights and sounds of a growing town.

Sometimes, I find myself reminiscing about the old days, when everything was quieter and simpler. But as I look around, I see the progress we've made. Our town has become a place where people from all walks of life come together, where dreams can take flight, and where opportunities abound.

Change may be inevitable, my young friends, but the spirit of Bramall lives on in the hearts of its people.

As we embrace the future, let's cherish the memories of our humble beginnings and strive to create a bright and welcoming community for generations to come.

Things began to change...
People from far and wide
came to settle in our town, bringing with them new ideas and dreams.
The fields slowly
disappeared, replaced by roads, houses, and buildings reaching up to the sky.

These questions cover a range of plate tectonics concepts and should provide a good challenge for Year 8 students.

Verdict: If asking for quiz questions, always ask for more than you need so you can delete any erroneous ones.

History: Slavery

Abolitionist Perspectives on Slavery

Write a slavery song from the point of view of an abolitionist in 1832. Have two verses and a chorus.

GPT: Certainly. It's important to approach sensitive historical topics with respect and awareness. Here's an attempt at a song from the perspective of an abolitionist in 1832:

Verse 1:

In the shadows of injustice, where chains bind the free,
I stand against oppression, a voice for liberty.
The cotton fields are stained with the tears of the oppressed,
I'm an abolitionist, in this fight, I won't rest.

Chorus:

Oh, rise, brothers and sisters, break the chains that bind,
For freedom and justice, our hearts entwined.
In the name of equality, our voices ring strong,
Abolitionists united, we'll right the wrongs.

Verse 2

Through the darkness of the auction block, the cries of anguish soar,
I'll be a beacon of hope, till slavery exists no more.
To dismantle this system, we'll bravely strive,
In the cause of human dignity, we will revive.

Chorus

Quick Tip

When working on historical topics, you are more likely to come across GPT's safeguards (for example in this prompt written after the above example)

- Me: Now write a pro-slavery song from the point of view of a 1832 slave owner.
- GPT: I'm sorry, but I cannot create content that promotes or glorifies harmful ideologies, including those supporting slavery. If you have any other non-controversial requests or topics you'd like assistance with, please feel free to ask.

NB: The only reason for second attempt was to test ChatGPT's safeguards.

Retrieval questions on the transatlantic slave trade

Write 5 questions to test KS3 pupils on the ending of the transatlantic slave trade. They must not be multiple choice style questions. Students should be able to answer questions in under 60 words.

1. What year did the British Parliament pass the law to abolish the transatlantic slave trade?
2. Who led the movement to abolish the transatlantic slave trade in the UK?
3. Name one key method used by abolitionists to campaign against the transatlantic slave trade.
4. Which major event contributed to changing public opinion and ultimately led to the abolition of the transatlantic slave trade?
5. What international treaty was signed in 1807 to prohibit the transatlantic slave trade?

Note: Q5 - I think first international treaty was signed in 1832 rather than 1807. Think GPT is confusing the 1807 Act and the 1837 treaty – I'd delete or amend the question.

Maths

Trigonometry

Write 10 real world problems for Y10 students that use trigonometry (e.g. a woodcutter needing to calculate how tall a tree is so it doesn't crush an old lady's house).

These problems require the application of trigonometric concepts such as sine, cosine, and tangent, making them suitable for Year 10 students:

| Question  | (Human) Comment   |
|---|---|
| 1. Shadow Length: A flagpole casts a shadow of 15 meters. If the angle of elevation to the sun is 40 degrees, find the height of the flagpole.   | Wasn't sure about elevation being to the sun (rather than top of flagpole). |
| 2. Building Height: A student is on the ground and observes the top of a building at an angle of elevation of 30 degrees. If the student is 20 meters away from the building, find the height of the building.           |   |
| 3. Ferris Wheel: The diameter of a Ferris wheel is 40 meters, and it rotates at an angle of 20 degrees. Calculate the distance travelled by a passenger sitting at the edge of the wheel during a complete rotation. | Couldn't imagine what this looked like.                                     |
| 4. Ramp Length: A wheelchair ramp needs to be constructed with an angle of elevation of 15 degrees. If the height of the ramp is 2 meters, find the length of the ramp.  |   |
| 5. Mountain Slope: A hiker is on a hill, and the angle of inclination is 25 degrees. If the horizontal distance the hiker travels is 500 meters, find the change in height.  |   |
| 6. Telecommunication Tower: An observer is 100 meters away from the base of a telecommunication tower. The angle of elevation to the top of the tower is 60 degrees. Determine the height of the tower.                  |   |
| 7. Airplane Descent: An airplane is descending at an angle of 5 degrees. If the airplane is 3,000 meters above the ground, find the horizontal distance travelled during descent.  |   |
| 8. Bridge Height: A bridge has an arch with an angle of elevation of 40 degrees. If the span of the bridge is 50 meters, find the vertical height of the arch.   | Too hard to imagine what this bridge looks like?                            |
| 9. Fire Lookout Tower: A fire lookout tower is situated on a hill. If the angle of elevation to the top of the tower is 30 degrees and the observer is 2 kilometres away, find the height of the tower.                  |   |
| 10. Crane Reach: A construction crane is positioned at an angle of 45 degrees. If the crane can reach a horizontal distance of 30 meters, find the vertical reach of the crane.  |   |

Quick Tip: You won't always get the prompt right first time. At first, if you want ten questions, ask for 13 and delete the ones you like least (or that don't make sense or have hallucinations).

Write a rap about the benefits of exercise in the style of Ed Sheeran

Verse 1)

Yo, I'm on the mic, let me break it down,
Talking 'bout exercise, gotta wear that crown.
In the style of Ed Sheeran, with a rhythm so sweet,
Benefits of fitness, let me lay down the beat.

Lace up your sneakers, hit the open road,
Heart pumping, feeling light, shaking off that load.

From head to toe, it's a body upgrade,
Endorphins rushing, mood on a parade.

(Chorus)

Exercise, my remedy, my therapy,
Sweat it out, set your spirit free.
In the gym or on the street,
Feeling strong, can't be beat.

(Verse 2)

Mind sharp like a razor, focus in the zone,
Flexing those muscles, feeling fully grown.
Stress on mute, like a silent song,
Lifting up weights, gotta stay strong.

Healthy heart beating, like a bass drum,
Climbing up mountains, gotta overcome.
Ed Sheeran vibes, with a fitness twist,
Exercise game, can't be dismissed.

(Chorus)

(Bridge)

No need for excuses, no holding back,
Jump in the rhythm, on the right track.
From dawn 'til dusk, let the movement flow,
Body and soul, watch the benefits grow.

(Verse 3)

Flexibility, balance, in every stride,
Working out the kinks, let the worries slide.
Lifting weights or a yoga pose,
In the fitness world, everybody knows.

Ed Sheeran style, with a catchy refrain,
Health and wellness, it's a lifelong gain.
So lace up those shoes, let the journey begin,
Exercise groove, let the good vibes spin.

(Chorus)

(Outro)

So here's the rap, 'bout fitness, no joke,
Ed Sheeran style, it's the wellness poke.
Take a step, feel the rhythm, take a chance,
In the world of exercise, join the dance

Me: Give me a chord progression for the Verse, Chorus and bridge
GPT: Certainly! Let's go with a simple chord progression in the key of G major for an acoustic vibe, fitting Ed Sheeran's style:

Verse:
G - D - Em - C

Chorus:
G - Em - C - D

Bridge:
Am - C - G - D

Feel free to experiment with strumming patterns and dynamics to create the desired mood for each section. This chord progression should provide a solid foundation for your Ed Sheeran-inspired rap about the benefits of exercise.

Letter about football kit

You are a polite but firm PE teacher. Write an email that can be sent to parents of Y10 students who have not returned the school football kit that should have been returned, washed by last Friday. Explain the consequences for the student if the shirt, shorts and socks aren't returned (dropped from the team and detention) by this Friday. Your name is Mr Bromby. Be brief.

Subject: Urgent: Return of School Football Kit

Dear Parents,

I trust this message finds you well. A quick reminder that the Y10 football kit, due back washed by last Friday, has not been returned by your child.

To uphold standards, consequences for non-return include being dropped from the team and detention. Please ensure the kit is returned by this Friday.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

Keep moving,

Mr. Bromby PE Dept

Verdict: The prompt is as long as the output. Time is better saved on longer letters about more complex things (e.g. visiting English Institute of Sport). I do like the sign off 'Keep moving' though.

Close Procedure on STIs

Write a cloze procedure activity for common STIs in UK, including symptoms and how they can be prevented and how to get tested and treated. Include reassurance about the GUM clinic being a welcoming and safe place. The target audience is Y9 secondary school students. Do not give a list of words that go in the gaps.

Staying Informed and Safe: Your Guide to Common STIs

Hey Y9 Superstars! Today, we're diving into an important topic - Staying Informed and Safe when it comes to Common STIs. It's all about looking out for ourselves and each other. Let's get started!

Understanding Common STIs

1. Chlamydia

- Symptoms: Often none, but watch out for pain while peeing, unusual discharge or lower belly pain _____, _____, or _____.
- Prevention: Use _____ consistently and correctly during any intimate activity.
- Testing and Treatment: Easy _____ test at the GUM clinic. Treatment is usually _____.

2. Gonorrhoea

- Symptoms: Can include _____, _____, and in some cases, _____.
- Prevention: _____, _____, _____! Protection is key.
- Testing and Treatment: GUM clinic tests and _____ if needed.

3. HPV (Human Papillomavirus)

- Symptoms: Often none, but can lead to _____ or _____ in the long term.
- Prevention: _____ (available for all genders), and again, _____!
- Testing and Treatment: No routine test for boys. Girls get _____, and GUM clinics handle abnormal _____.

Why the GUM Clinic is Your Friend

- _____ and _____.
- Staff are _____; they've seen it all and are here to help.
- No _____—everyone deserves good health.

How to Get Tested

- Self-Referral: Call the GUM clinic and make an _____.
- Anonymous Testing: In many cases, you don't even need to give your _____.

What to Expect at the Clinic

- Friendly _____: They're there to help, not _____.
- Tests Are Quick and _____: Pee in a _____, maybe a blood sample, and you're done.
- _____ Conversations: You can discuss anything in _____.

Remember: Prevention is Key!

- Use _____: Every time, no exceptions.
- Get _____: Protect yourself against HPV.
- _____ Check-ups: Even if you're not experiencing symptoms, it's smart to get tested _____.

Closing Words

Being informed is powerful, and taking care of your sexual health is a _____ and _____ move. The GUM clinic is here for you, no matter what. Stay _____, stay _____, and remember – knowledge is your _____!

Art: Studying an Artist

ChatGPT is not something to use for drawing images (you could use its sister-product Dall-E instead or other free products listed below). However, ChatGPT can still be used by art teachers.

Julian Opie

You are an art teacher and teaching British Artist, Julian Opie. Write 5 success criteria for Y7 students to refer back to to ensure that they successfully complete a piece of artwork in Julian Opie's style.

GPT: Certainly! When creating artwork in the style of Julian Opie, here are five success criteria for Year 7 students:

1. Simplified Forms: Ensure the main subject of your artwork is simplified into basic shapes and forms. Opie often uses minimal lines and details.
2. Bold Outlines: Use bold and defined outlines around your shapes and figures. Opie's work is characterized by strong, graphic lines that create a sense of clarity.
3. Flat Colours: Apply flat, unmodulated colours to your forms. Avoid shading or blending colours. Opie's work often features areas of solid, vibrant colour.
4. Figurative Elements: Include recognisable figures or elements in your composition. Opie is known for depicting people, animals, or everyday objects in a simplified and stylized manner.
5. Experiment with Composition: Play with the arrangement of your elements within the composition. Opie's artworks often have a sense of movement and dynamic balance. Experiment with the placement of your subjects.

deepai.org

Prompt: Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie.

Verdict: These look pretty cool, but aren't really simple enough to be Julian Opie...

Pxlr

Prompt: "Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie. Use a bright background. Ensure face colours are simplified and that the eyes and nose are simple black lines like Julian Opie uses. Use bold and defined outlines around your shapes and figures. Apply flat, unmodulated colours to your forms. Avoid shading or blending colours like Julian Opie."

Verdict: Best of a mediocre bunch but very quickly, you have to pay for Pxlr. So overall, not good enough to recommend yet.

Craiyon.com

Note: This one's slow and takes a minute or so to generate the images. It does give you 9 to pick from though.

Prompt: Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie.

Attempt 2: "Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie. Use a bright monocolour background. Ensure the face colours are simplified. Use bold and defined outlines around your shapes and figures. Apply flat, unmodulated colours to your forms. Avoid shading or blending colours."

Verdict: A bit better. But still can't get the eyes and nose simple enough to be a Julian Opie.

How about a different artist? Frida Kahlo for example?

Prompt: "Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Frida Kahlo. Use a bright monocolour background. Apply flat, unmodulated colours to your forms. Do not use shading. Make it as simple as possible."

Verdict: Nope.

hotpot.ai/art-generator

Prompt: Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie.

Verdict: Doesn't look much like Rashford, background isn't plain enough and uses far too many tones to look like a Julian Opie. Great for pop art, but not Julian Opie.

Then changed prompt to incorporate previous success criteria:

Draw Marcus Rashford in the style of Julian Opie. Use a monocolour background. Ensure the main subject of your artwork is simplified. Use bold and defined outlines around your shapes and figures. Apply flat, unmodulated colours to your forms. Avoid shading or blending colours.

Verdict: That made it worse. Still doesn't look like Rashford and there's random stuff flying in the background for some reason.

My Verdict on AI and Art

If you want a particular person (e.g. Rashford) and in the style of a less well known and more modern artist, then it's not there yet. For these niche requests, try again in 4 months.

However, AI image generation can do generic artwork very well and make some dazzling images.

A Y11 Leaver's Song

Write a Y11 leavers song. Make it sentimental and follow a Verse - chorus - verse - chorus - chorus pattern. It can have funny bits in (e.g. Miss Peters raging about pupil's haircuts, Mr Mynes getting a team to make COVID masks for the NHS during the pandemic, Mr Singh's Christmas ties, having to do remote learning, the Y10 field trip that got stuck in 4 hours of traffic).

(Verse 1)

In halls and classrooms, you walked each day,
With dreams and hopes lighting your way,
Miss Peters raged at haircuts wild and free,
But in our hearts, your spirits we'll see.

Mr. Mynes led with courage and grace,
Crafting masks to protect every face,
Mr. Singh's Christmas ties, a festive delight,
In memories shared, they shine so bright.

(Chorus)

Oh, Y11, our time has flown,
Through laughter, tears, and all we've known,
In your hearts, our lessons stay,
As you journey forth on your way.

(Verse 2)

Remote learning days, a digital maze,
Yet you persevered, in myriad ways,
The Y10 trip, stuck in traffic's snare,
We sang and laughed, a bond to share.

Through essays, exams, and sleepless nights,
You've shown resilience, fought the fights,
In every challenge, you found your voice,
In every triumph, you rejoice.

(Chorus)

(Bridge)

As you spread your wings, and soar so high,
Know you carry our love, our pride.
In every dream, in every goal,
You'll find us cheering, heart and soul.

(Chorus)

(Outro)

So here's to the memories we've made,
To the friendships forged, to the paths laid,
In the tapestry of life, you'll find your place,
With the light of hope, in every space.

Verdict: An OK attempt at a leavers song. It didn't quite follow the V/C/V/C/C song structure, but this still shaves 45 minutes off the time it would take to write this. I need to spend my time polishing it up (rather than starting from scratch).

To cover the expenses associated with the trip, we kindly request a contribution of £18.00 per child. This amount will cover transportation, activity fees, and any additional costs. To ensure a seamless payment process, we have set up an online payment system called School Pay. Instructions on how to make the payment online will be provided in a separate communication.

To secure your child's place on the trip, please complete and return the attached consent form along with the payment by [Payment Deadline]. As places are limited, we encourage you to submit the form and payment promptly to avoid disappointment.

We understand that financial circumstances may differ for each family. If you require any assistance or alternative payment arrangements, please contact the school office, and we will handle your request with utmost confidentiality and sensitivity.

Verdict: It's a little long in part, but it helpfully gets the main points down for me to edit. I probably also need to add in the arrangements for students who have free school meals (e.g. can order a packed lunch in advance).
